ECONOMIC UPDATE

- Recent economic data suggest slower growth in 2025 and greater market uncertainty as the effects of fiscal policy unfold. Inflationary trends have subsided, but some components remain sticky, and core levels remain above the Fed's target. The labor market reflects improved balance between supply and demand for workers. While job creation has been robust, continuing jobless claims remain elevated. Given the economic outlook, we expect gradual normalization of monetary policy and a steepening yield curve.

- As broadly anticipated, the Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) left the Federal Funds Rate unchanged at the range of 4.25 - 4.50% at the May meeting. Fed Chair Powell continued to emphasize the Committee's "wait and see" approach amidst an uncertain macro environment where economic data continues to show resilience, while concerns over a tariff-led increase in unemployment and inflation remain elevated.

- US Treasury yields declined, and the curve steepened in April. The 2-year Treasury yield declined 29 basis points to 3.60%, the 5-year Treasury fell 22 basis points to 3.73%, and the 10-year Treasury yield fell 5 basis points to 4.16%. The spread between the 2-year and 10-year Treasury yield points on the curve widened to +56 basis points at April month-end versus +32 basis points at March month-end. The spread between the 2-year Treasury and 10-year Treasury yield one year ago was -36 basis points. The spread between the 3-month and 10-year Treasury yield points on the curve was -13 basis points in April, versus -9 basis points in March.

Nonfarm Payroll (000's)

Unemployment Rate

Source: US Department of Labor

The U.S. economy added 177,000 jobs in April, exceeding consensus expectations, and the last two months were revised down by 58,000. Gains were led by education and health services. The three-month moving average and six-month moving average payrolls totaled 155,000 and 193,000 respectively. The unemployment rate was unchanged at 4.2% in April, and the labor participation rate edged up to 62.6%, remaining below the pre-pandemic level of 63.3%. The U-6 underemployment rate, which includes those who are marginally attached to the labor force and employed part time for economic reasons edged down to 7.8% in April from 7.9% in March. Average hourly earnings remained steady with a 3.8% year-over-year increase in April.

Job Openings

Source: US Department of Labor

The Labor Department's Job Openings and Labor Turnover Survey (JOLTS) fell to 7.19 million new job openings in March after a downward revision to 7.48 million new job openings in February. Job openings indicate a ratio of approximately 1 job for each unemployed individual, representing a relatively balanced labor market.

Consumer Price Index (CPI)

Personal Consumption Expenditures (PCE)

In March, price increases measured by both the Consumer Price Index (CPI) and Core CPI, which excludes volatile food and energy components, decelerated from last month and came in lower than consensus expectations. The headline CPI dropped 0.1% month-over-month and rose 2.4% year-over-year, while the Core CPI rose 0.1% month-over-month and 2.8% year-over-year. The Personal Consumption Expenditures (PCE) price index was unchanged from the previous month and rose 2.3% year-over-year in March. The Core PCE deflator, which excludes food and energy and is the Fed's preferred gauge, was also flat month-over-month and up 2.6% year-over-year, down from February's 3.0% year-over-year increase. Inflation remains above the Fed's 2% target.

Retail Sales YOY % Change

Consumer Confidence

Source: The Conference Board
 All time high is 144.70 (1/31/00); All time low is 25.30 (2/28/09)

Advance Retail Sales increased 1.4% month-over-month in March following a 0.2% gain in February. Auto sales jumped, and spending ramped up broadly ahead of tariffs. Building materials, garden equipment, and restaurants also soared with the transition to spring weather. However, control group sales, which feeds into gross domestic product, increased a disappointing 0.4% in March. On a year-over-year basis, Retail Sales grew 4.6% in March versus 3.5% in February. The Conference Board's Consumer Confidence Index declined for the fifth straight month in April to 86.0, down from 93.9 in March, driven primarily by weakening future expectations for income, business, and labor market conditions. While the consumer has been resilient, rising inflation expectations, concerns about trade policies and tariffs, and general economic and policy uncertainty could pose potential risks to future spending.

Leading Economic Indicators (LEI)

Chicago Fed National Activity Index (CFNAI)

Source: Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago

The Conference Board's Leading Economic Index (LEI) fell by 0.7% in March, following a 0.2% decline in February. The LEI decreased by 3.5% year-over-year. The Chicago Fed National Activity Index (CFNAI) decreased to -0.03 in March from upwardly revised +0.24 in February, reflecting weaker readings across production-related indicators and sales, orders, and inventories. The three-month moving average fell to -0.01 in March from +0.12 in February, indicating expectations of below-trend economic growth.

Annualized Housing Starts

Source: US Department of Commerce

S&P/Case-Shiller 20 City Composite Home Price Index

Source: S&P

Housing starts plunged 11.4% to 1.3 million units in March as builders anticipated higher mortgage rates and slower demand, as well as uncertainty about building costs for materials and labor. Single family starts plummeted 14.2%, and multi-family starts fell 3.5%. Total starts increased 1.9% compared to March 2024. The Freddie Mac 30-year fixed rate mortgage averaged approximately 6.7% in April. According to the Case-Shiller 20-City Home Price Index, housing prices rose 4.5% year-over-year in February, compared to 4.7% in January. Limited inventory, elevated mortgage rates, and lack of affordability continue to weigh on the housing market.

The Institute for Supply Management (ISM) Manufacturing index fell to 48.7 in April from 49.0 in March, indicating a continuation of slow contraction in the sector. The survey reflected a slight increase in both new orders and employment, with continued upward price pressures. The ISM Services index rose to 51.6 in April, up from 50.8 in March as new orders, employment, and supplier deliveries all improved. Unfortunately, price pressures continued to surge. A reading over 50 indicates expansion, while a reading under 50 indicates contraction.

Gross Domestic Product (GDP)

Source: US Department of Commerce

The advance estimate of first quarter GDP decreased 0.3%, the first negative quarter since 2022. Net exports were the primary drag on growth, as imports surged in anticipation of higher tariffs. Despite the contraction, personal consumption expenditures and investment in business equipment made positive contributions. The consensus projection calls for 0.8% growth for the second quarter and 1.8% for the full year 2025.

Effective Federal Funds Rate

Source: Bloomberg

As broadly anticipated, the Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) left the Federal Funds Rate unchanged at the range of 4.25 - 4.50% at the May meeting. Fed Chair Powell continued to emphasize the Committee's "wait and see" approach amidst an uncertain macro environment where economic data continues to show resilience, while concerns over a tariff-led increase in unemployment and inflation remain elevated. The monthly redemption cap on Treasuries will remain at $5 billion, while the cap on agencies and mortgage-backed securities will be maintained at $35 billion. Since the Fed began its Quantitative Tightening campaign in June 2022, securities holdings have declined by about $2.2 trillion to approximately $6.7 trillion.

US Treasury Note Yields

US Treasury Yield Curve

Source: Bloomberg

At the end of April, the 2-year Treasury yield was 143 basis points lower, and the 10-Year Treasury yield was 52 basis points lower, year-over-year. The spread between the 2-year and 10-year Treasury yield points on the curve widened to +56 basis points at April month-end versus +32 basis points at March month-end. The recent yield curve inversion which began in July 2022 was historically long. The average historical spread (since 2005) is about +99 basis points. The spread between the 3-month and 10-year Treasury yield points on the curve was -13 basis points in April, versus -9 basis points in March.

IMPORTANT DISCLOSURES

2025 Chandler Asset Management, Inc, An Independent Registered Investment Adviser.

Information contained herein is confidential. Prices are provided by ICE Data Services Inc (“IDS”), an independent pricing source. In the event IDS does not provide a price or if the price provided is not reflective of fair market value, Chandler will obtain pricing from an alternative approved third party pricing source in accordance with our written valuation policy and procedures. Our valuation procedures are also disclosed in Item 5 of our Form ADV Part 2A.

Performance results are presented gross-of-advisory fees and represent the client’s Total Return. The deduction of advisory fees lowers performance results. These results include the reinvestment of dividends and other earnings. Past performance may not be indicative of future results. Therefore, clients should not assume that future performance of any specific investment or investment strategy will be profitable or equal to past performance levels. All investment strategies have the potential for profit or loss. Economic factors, market conditions or changes in investment strategies, contributions or withdrawals may materially alter the performance and results of your portfolio.

Index returns assume reinvestment of all distributions. Historical performance results for investment indexes generally do not reflect the deduction of transaction and/or custodial charges or the deduction of an investment management fee, the incurrence of which would have the effect of decreasing historical performance results. It is not possible to invest directly in an index.

This report is provided for informational purposes only and should not be construed as a specific investment or legal advice. The information contained herein was obtained from sources believed to be reliable as of the date of publication, but may become outdated or superseded at any time without notice. Any opinions or views expressed are based on current market conditions and are subject to change. This report may contain forecasts and forward-looking statements which are inherently limited and should not be relied upon as indicator of future results. Past performance is not indicative of future results. This report is not intended to constitute an offer, solicitation, recommendation or advice regarding any securities or investment strategy and should not be regarded by recipients as a substitute for the exercise of their own judgment.

Fixed income investments are subject to interest, credit and market risk. Interest rate risk: the value of fixed income investments will decline as interest rates rise. Credit risk: the possibility that the borrower may not be able to repay interest and principal. Low rated bonds generally have to pay higher interest rates to attract investors willing to take on greater risk. Market risk: the bond market in general could decline due to economic conditions, especially during periods of rising interest rates.

Ratings information have been provided by Moody’s, S&P and Fitch through data feeds we believe to be reliable as of the date of this statement, however we cannot guarantee its accuracy.

Security level ratings for U.S. Agency issued mortgage-backed securities (“MBS”) reflect the issuer rating because the securities themselves are not rated. The issuing U.S. Agency guarantees the full and timely payment of both principal and interest and carries a AA+/Aaa/AAA by S&P, Moody’s and Fitch respectively.
